ABSTRAK

Perkembangan teknologi komunikasi terkini, khususnya aplikasi berasaskan web seperti weblog, telah mengubah lanskap media. Di negara-negara dengan sistem media yang dikawal, munculnya weblog memberikan pilihan saran untuk mereka yang ingin menyebarkan pandangan umum yang selalunya ditekan oleh media arus perdana. Isu-isu yang dianggap sebagai sensitif oleh media tempatan selalunya jarang mendapat liputan meluas. Bahkan jika ada liputan, sumber maklumat itu disajikan dari sudut pandangan yang konsisten dengan pandangan dan falsafah elit dan kerajaan. Merujuk kepada pernyataan bahawa blogging menawarkan ruangan awam yang relatif lebih luas dibandingkan dengan media cetak; wacana tentang isu-isu politik dalam bentuk yang berbeza. Oleh kerana itu, tujuan kajian ini adalah untuk mengkaji dan membahas persepsi, penerimaan dan keyakinan pelajar UUM IT melalui blog politik.

ABSTRACT

The developments of newest communication technology, especially web based applications such as weblogs, have changed the media landscape. In countries with controlled media system, the emergence of weblogs provides an option medium to those who want to disseminate views generally suppressed by the mainstream media. Issues deemed sensitive by the local media seldom get due coverage. Even if there is coverage, it is presented from the viewpoint that is consistent with the views and philosophy of the elite and the government. Departing on the premise that blogging offers a relatively wider public sphere than the print media; discourses on political issues on different forms. Hence, this paper examines and discusses the perception, acceptance and belief of UUM IT student through political blog.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In the Name of Allah, Most Gracious, Most Merciful.

Alhamdulillah, grateful to Allah S.W.T with the mercy of, this study can be completed.

I wish to acknowledge the support of many individuals who helped me to complete this project paper and throughout my graduate education. Each of them had unique perspectives which contribute to my development. Grateful acknowledgement is given to Dr. Massudi Mahmuddin, who was my lecturer cum project paper supervisor, for his invaluable insights, professional advice, scholarly guidance and patience towards the completion of the study.

My sincere appreciation is also extended specially to my colleagues Mr. Mohd Zairol bin Yusoff, all my friends and staff of university Utara Malaysia, particularly, Mr. Mohd Faiz Abdul Karim (Pusat Komputer) and Mr. Shanizan Mohd Radzi (lecturer) who have helped me in one way or another during the Master's course and completion of this thesis.

Finally and most specially, I extend my sincere appreciation and gratitude to my parents, Haji Abdul Karim Bin Ahmad and Hajjah Bishah Binti Mat Arshad and also to my lovely wife Pn. Adibah Binti Halim and my son, Ahmad Adam Farid for their encouragement, reassurances and support throughout my pursuance of the course in Masters in Information and Communication Technology and ultimate completion of this thesis.

INTRODUCTION

This chapter provides an overview of blog and political blog and its usability issues. This chapter also holds through background explanations of the study, problem statements, and research questions along with its objectives, significance of the study, problems and limitations and study scopes. All the subtopics will then be described in an overall review of this particular chapter.

1.1 Background

All the developing countries accept the fact that communication has been as important as a policy tool and act as a conduit in plan development. Our country, Malaysia is also not an exception in this case. Now, in this era of globalization is increasingly lively, communication can be done through various channels. Uses of new media such as Internet and blogs have caused communications through intermediate computer faster moving steps. We can observe blog emergence as phenomenon means explosion trigger information technology at the time in era borderless nation. We shall see in this case in general related what does it mean by blog, its difference from social network another and why it so popular nowadays and by slow we will seen as to why it so popular at the time.

A blog is a website updated frequently and combines text, images, and links to other web pages related to its topic. Entries are commonly displayed in reverse chronological order. Many blogs provide commentary or news on a particular subject; others function as more
