ABSTRACT

This research examines the relationship of role conflict, person-job fit and social support with work stress among 140 employees of travel agencies in Kedah (Kota Setar). It also investigates the difference in experiencing work stress between male and female employees. The level of work stress among employees is also examined. Descriptive analysis is conducted to ascertain the data normality as well as to analyze the frequencies of the respondents’ demographic profile. Multiple regression outputs show that the relationships of role conflict and social support with stress are significant, but not with person job fit. While the t-test shows that there is a difference between male and female employees in experiencing work stress. Based on the research findings several recommendations to reduce work stress in the agencies are made. Finally, the directions for future research are also discussed among employees.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In the name of Allah, Most Gracious and Most Merciful Alhamdulillah, praised to Allah S.W.T for the completion of this thesis. I would like to express my gratitude and appreciation to those who helped, supported and encouraged me, and made this accomplishment possible.

My sincere gratitude is given to my supervisor, Dr. Fais Ahmad who gave his valuable input during my dissertation and also guidance throughout completing this thesis. Also to my supervisor, Dr Zurina Adnan, it was a great pleasure to work under her supervision for always supporting me in accomplishing the thesis.

A token of love and appreciation, I dedicated this to my beloved parents, siblings and loved one who always make me feel special. My most profound thankfulness goes to all my dearest family members, especially my parents, Mr. Zamri bin Othman and Madam Rohaya binti Wan Chek for their endless support and made this thesis possible. I would like to give my special thanks to both of them and my younger siblings for having so much faith in me and for their love and support.

It is also a pleasure to offer my appreciation to my beloved one, Muhammad Syazwan Azizan for all his support, helped and encouragement throughout the process of completing this dissertation. Thanks also dedicated to all my friends, Ayuni, Hidayah and Azreen for supporting me throughout this journey. Not forgetting, to the employees of travel agencies who have cooperated to complete the questionnaire.
Finally, thanks to my university, Universiti Utara Malaysia (UUM) for giving me a chance and opportunity to carry out this study in a very conducive environment.

Thank you.

CHAPTER ONE
INTRODUCTION

1.0 Introduction

This chapter comprehensively describes the background of the study which subsequently followed by the actual research problem and the research gap in the following sub-topic of problem statement. The outcomes of research problem discussions have yielded four research objectives as well as research questions. Significance of the study is explained and finally this chapter ends with the definition of key terms.

1.1 Background of study

Malaysia is a Southeast Asian country which including the Malaysian Peninsula and part of the Island of Borneo. Malaysia is known as a peaceful country with different races of people such as Malays, Chinese and Indian. The current Prime Minister of Malaysia, Dato’ Sri Mohd Najib bin Tun Haji Abdul Razak, has presented the Eleventh Malaysia Plan in 2015. The Eleventh Malaysia Plan has focused on the plans to make Malaysia as an advanced nation that is inclusive and sustainable by 2020. Based on the Eleventh Malaysia Plan, during the year of 2010 to 2015, the gross domestic product (GDP) in Malaysia shows that services sector contribute the most (53.8% in 2015) compared to manufacturing (23%), construction (4.5%),
