ABSTRACT

The role of caregiver or childcare employee is important to deliver excellent quality childcare in developing future leader. In order to develop future generation, childcare centres should enhance and stimulate the practice of quality assurance among employees. The purpose of this study is to investigate factors that influence quality assurance among childcare employees in Selangor. Precisely, the objectives of the study is to determine, identify and examine the relationship between factors (physical facilities, employee commitment, communication, and employee competencies) and quality assurance. A random sampling technique was used to select respondents from the registered childcare centers in Selangor, Malaysia. The study used quantitative approach through structured questionnaires developed from previous research. A total of 450 survey questionnaires were distributed, only 379 questionnaires were usable for analysis. The study used SPSS 22.0 to analyze the data. Methodologies such as Pearson Correlation and Multiple Regression Analysis were conducted in analyzing the data. Overall, the findings revealed that quality assurance had positive relationship and significant with physical facilities, employee commitment, communication and employee competencies. This study concluded with discussions, limitation and suggestions for future research.

CHAPTER 1
INTRODUCTION

1.0 Introduction
This chapter presents an overview of factors influence quality assurance. This chapters consists of nine parts which are (1) introduction of the study, (2) background of the study, (3) problem statements, (4) research questions, (5) research objectives, (6) variables of the study, (7) theoretical framework, (8) hypothesis, (9) significance of the study and (10) chapter conclusion.

1.1 Background of the Study
Nowadays, childcare centres have been a growing trend in Malaysia. This is supported by the growing number of childcare centers in Malaysia. This can be explained by the report from Ministry of Woman, Family and Community shows that growing number of childcare centres by the year 2007 to 2016 from 2176 to 4272 respectively. (Heng Keng Chiam, 2008; JKM, 2018). In addition, the growing childcare center in Malaysia is to meet the growing number of pre-school children in the country. This is because “registered centres in the country were found to be insufficient to meet the demand to place children” said by Datuk Seri Rohani Abdul Karim. (“MalayMail Online,” 2014).

Childcare centres not only bring convenience to working parents but the same times making contribution to the labour force and economy of the country. This can be explained by more job opportunity for women force in childcare industry. On the other hand, the number of women entrepreneurs increased by years due to the support of government and organizations. According to Ming Yen Teoh & Choy Chong (2014), woman entrepreneurship can be strengthen by having childcare subsidies for childcare
