Abstrak

Setiap negara dalam dunia ini mempunyai lagu kebangsaan yang memperkenalkan kebudayaan, tradisi, sejarah dan identiti nasional bagi sebuah bangsa tersebut. Lagu kebangsaan merupakan aspek utama dalam menjelaskan nilai utama nasionalisme kepada rakyat dan ini merupakan medium pertama yang dipelajari sejak kita dilahirkan dalam memahami nilai nasionalisme. Lagu kebangsaan sangat memainkan peranan yang penting dalam menjelaskan kepentingan nilai nasionalisme yang perlu disemai dalam diri setiap rakyat. Namun begitu, Negaraku tidak memberikan impak yang besar untuk dihayati oleh rakyat Malaysia kerana kurangnya kefahaman terhadap makna sebenar lagu tersebut. Oleh itu, kajian ini bertujuan 1) untuk menjelaskan makna dan falsafah nasionalisme dalam Negaraku, 2) untuk menghuraikan makna ekspresi dalam Negaraku dan 3) untuk menganalisis fungsi representasi dalam Negaraku. Maka, kajian ini akan memperkenalkan satu metod ekslusif oleh Jacques Derrida (1967) dalam menganalisis elemen penulisan dan pengucapan dalam lagu Negaraku. Lirik lagu dan skor muzik Negaraku akan digunakan sebagai data dalam kajian ini. Keputusan dari kajian ini telah mengetengahkan satu metod terbaru yang mudah dan mutakhir dalam menyediakan makna yang jelas mengenai nilai nasionalisme menerusi lagu tersebut. Selain itu, kajian ini juga dapat mengetengahkan kepentingan estetika dalam setiap aspek kehidupan kita. Tiga elemen utama ditekankan dalam kajian ini iaitu, makna, ekspresi and representasi dalam Negaraku dapat memberi kefahaman asas untuk menghargai nilai sebenar lagu ini. Tambahan pula, kajian ini bertujuan untuk memberikan pendedahan mengenai teori dekonstruktionisma dalam dunia akademik di samping, memberi pengajaran kepada orang awam tentang perihalnya falsafah dalam kehidupan sehari-hari.

Abstract

Every country in this world has its own national anthem that apprehend their own national identity, custom, culture, tradition, and the history of the nation. It becomes the prominent aspect in deriving the sense of nationalism and it is the first medium that we learn about this value since we were born. The national anthem really plays an important role as it is clearly related to how strong nationalism of the nation itself. Unfortunately, it seems that Negaraku itself did not give an impact on the spirit among citizens due to lack of understanding of interpretation of the song itself. Therefore, this study aims to describe the meaning and philosophy of nationalism in Negaraku, to elaborate the expression interpretation in Negaraku and to analyze the role of representation in the Negaraku. This study will emphasize an exclusive method by Jacques Derrida (1967) as the core foundation in analysing the writing and speech element in Negaraku. Negaraku's lyrics and musical sheets will be used as the data for this study. The study resulted in drawing a new method that are simple and precise in providing the clear interpretation of the song in understanding the essence of nationalism. Moreover, the study also revealed the importance of aesthetics element in every aspect of our life. Three elements that have been highlighted in this study; the meaning, expression, and representation of Negaraku can give a basic understanding for the citizen in appreciating the song. Besides that, this study is desired to provide valuable insight for the future research in establishing the deconstructionism theory in the academic world, hence, give an educated insight of the importance of philosophical view in people's life.

CHAPTER 1

INTRODUCTION

1.1 Background of Study

Nationalism is one of the main elements that construct the strength of the nation. The definition of nationalism itself indicates many controversial issues, to begin with. Nielsen (1998) stated that the definition of nationalism consists of two elements. Firstly, the attitude that the members of a nation do to take care of their identity as a nation. Secondly, the actions that the members of a nation take in sustain some form of political sovereignty. However, Gans (2003) believes that nationalism requisite the individual memberships is the sole purpose to constitute the development of a nation that apprehends the loyalty and sense of belonging towards their nation. These individual-memberships can be in the form of involuntary or voluntary that somehow contributes to the formation of the national identity of their nation. The definition of voluntary and involuntary in Gans statement reflects the attitude of those particular members of the nation as stated as Nielson. The particular group whether they willingly or not to construct their own national identity somehow defines the normative culture of their nation. Both opinion and definition may be agreeable, but the question arises on how we constitute the act of nationalism in the first place. Throughout history, the strongest peak of nationalism can be seen in how well the nation carries out its cultural diversity in defending its own national identity.

The second question arises on what tools can spread the nationalism value towards society. In answering this question, we should take a look at something close to us. We never realize the existence of it in our daily life until we finally realize it. Aesthetics is one of the branches of philosophical knowledge alongside Metaphysics, Epistemology, Logic,
